NENA Executive Director Resigns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (March 11, 2002)— Today NENA has accepted the resignation of W. Mark Adams, its executive director. Mr. Adams has resigned to pursue other career interests.

NENA President Sharon Counterman expressed her appreciation to Mr. Adams for his service with and on behalf of the Association, and wishes him success in his future endeavors.

“It has been a pleasure and honor to serve NENA and 9-1-1 for the past three years,” Mr. Adams stated.

A not-for-profit corporation, the National Emergency Number Association (NENA) is the only educational organization dedicated solely to the study, advancement and implementation of 9-1-1 as America's universal emergency number. With the participation of a wide variety of stakeholders and public safety entities, NENA has an individual membership of more than 7,500 public safety executives, and is organized into 48 chapters. The organization strives to provide an effective and accessible 9-1-1 service for North America, measuring its success in the lives saved by 9-1-1 each day. NENA also develops recommended operating standards and protocol for 9-1-1 services from its headquarters in Columbus, Ohio. Learn more at www.nena.org.
